

WORLD TEACHERS' DAY 2016

"There shouldn't be just one day for teachers – every day should be for teachers, but you have to pick one so that we can concentrate on this and focus on it. Teachers should be celebrated on banners around the city, should be the first in the queue, not last in the queue, should get to go into the business lounge of the airport ... Every day should be World Teachers' Day."

– Professor Andy Hargreaves

Thomas More Brennan Chair in the Lynch School of Education at Boston College
